

Main Street Rebuild

Businesses are open for you to shop local!

Main Street in the hamlet of Lac La Biche (101 Ave.) is under construction from 103 Street to 102 Street.

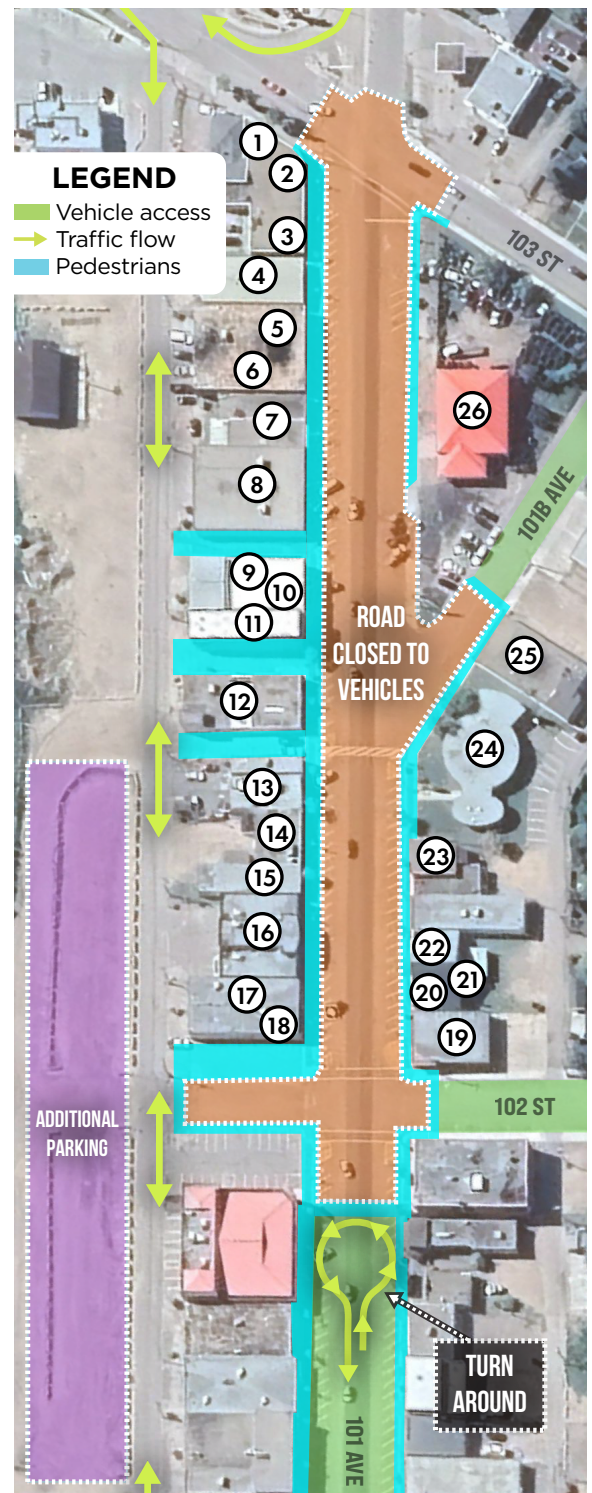

Be sure to show your support for local businesses affected by the construction, because dollars spent in our community stay in our community. Additional parking is available between the back alley and the train tracks, and pedestrians can still access Main Street using existing sidewalks and pass-throughs between businesses.

Questions? Please email mainstreet@lACLabichecounty.com or call (780) 404-6869.

PLANNING & DEVELOPMENT SIMPLIFIED

SAFETY CODE PERMITS

So you've got your Development Permit and you're ready to start work. Now what?

Most developers will need at least one Safety Code permit before continuing. The good news is you won't have to go anywhere else. Our Planning & Development team works with you to determine which permits are required for your project, and we receive and process your applications so the only thing you need to do is schedule inspections. It's that easy.

Every municipality in Alberta has processes for managing local development. We follow rules set by the Government of Alberta, but we strive to make our processes as simple and developer-friendly as possible.

What are Safety Code permits? These permits ensure that work follows the Government of Alberta's safety regulations. There are permits for building, electrical, gas, plumbing and private sewage system work.

Land Use Bylaw: What's next?

We are reviewing and revising our Land Use Bylaw, and members of the public can expect to see a draft of the proposed new version in the next few months.

The Land Use Bylaw (LUB) is the rulebook for development in Lac La Biche County. Every municipality in Alberta has a LUB, and it's normal to rewrite it every few years, to incorporate all of the small amendments that have been made and to keep up with the times.

We're expecting two rounds of open houses later this year, so residents can see the new draft and provide their feedback. Then the draft will be presented to Council for further review. The new and improved LUB may be adopted by Council near the end of this year or in 2024, depending on how the rest of the process goes.

A revision process does not necessarily mean stricter rules are coming. It has never been our goal to make development more difficult. Communities change over time, so we're exploring different regulations to reduce red tape.
